Good With a Gun

NEW YORK, August 23.—The World describes the shooting of Doctor Ruth and wife Mrs Ruth began with pistol at glass balls and they were shattered in almost every case with the pistol held sideways, there was a miss or two but generally every shot told When the pistol was inverted and aim taken from below instead of above the line of fire there was no apparent loss of percentage in hits, when the ball was hung by a string and set swinging, Mrs Ruth stood eighteen rods off and made a clean break on her first shot The rifle was then handled through the same series of shots and the usual want of grace with which all women handle the gun was apparent When the balls were thrown up in the air Mrs Ruth stood a good distance off and shattered a dozen out of fifteen, and this feature, when encored, was equally as good While the lady chatted with lady spectators, Dr Ruth began to show his ability as a snap shot Sights of the rifle seemed to be of no special assistance to him, for when they were covered by a cord he used the weapon on balls placed on a stand and against glass spheres thrown into the air with wonderful effect. Some balls were thrown on the ground a dozen yards off and the doctor aiming below a ball would send it spinning into the air, and then rapidly unloading and loading his rifle would hit the ball on its descent This double shooting drew out applause Again when balls were thrown up, the rifle was given a turn about after the manner of a flail handle and it fell into position soon enough to enable a breaking shot to be made on the ball Balls thrown from the side were hit whether coming from the right or left When tired of hitting glass balls Doctor Ruth picked up a fragment of glass and stepping off a dozen paces held it off in his fingers, while Mrs Ruth, picking up a small bore rifle, took careful aim and the glass was shattered into powder With an ordinary visiting card held in his mouth and turned so as to show the side, Doctor Ruth permitted his wife to put several bullets through it Dozens of other and similar ways of testing the quickness of sight and steadiness of nerve of the shooters were improvised, and generally it was found that anything fired at was hit almost every time There was a good attendance, including several expert shooters.

St Paul's Fire

ST PAUL, August 23 Averill, Russell & Carpenter's paper warehouse and P. H Kelly's wholesale grocery on Third street were burned to the ground early this morning, the fire defying the firemen and burning with incredible swiftness There are rumors that a man was killed by the falling walls Kelly & Co's loss is $400,000, insurance $300,000 Their building is owned by the late W S Wright, cost $60,000, insurance $20 000 Averill, Russell & Carpenter's loss is $125,000, insurance $78,000. Their building was owned by Sherwood Hale, loss $45 000, insured for $12,000. Other losses aggregate about $15,000.

Sullen Indians

CHICAGO, August 23.—A despatch received from Fort Buford, dated the 19th at military headquarters to day, reports indications unfavorable. A few days ago the Uncapapas, Sitting Bull's tribe, tried to prevent a large body of hostiles from crossing the Missouri to surrender themselves at the agency and the number on the road under Big Road on broad trail is very small Rain in the Face is still at the agency with forty warriors, silent and sullen The warriors are reported moving south while the women and children are going north A bad sign.

Our Stock Prospering.

NEW YORK, August 23—The Evening Post says special telegrams are being sent to New York from San Francisco to the effect that private advices from the Comstock mines from eminent and trustworthy sources indicate that prospects for the entire length of the great lode are more highly favorable than they have been for years and all expect that the period of depression has passed to give way to an era of sound prosperity.

He's Strict, Woo.

NEW YORK, August 23—The Post this evening says A number of Chinese students now in the United States will soon be sent to China on account of offences which they have committed Among them is T. C Chung, an excellent young man, who was graduated in the class of '79, at Norwich, Conn, free academy and who is dishonored for having cut off his "queue" Woo, the new commissioner at Hartford, is very strict, and is conducting the Chinese schools under the rigid discipline of the empire.

The Freedman's Bank

WASHINGTON, August 23 The commissioner of the Freedmen's Savings and Trust company has declared a dividend of ten per cent, and will begin paying the same on the first of September The amount required to pay this dividend is $296,368 The thirty per cent heretofore declared and the special deposits paid will aggregate $1,258 936, which has been divided among more than 61,000 creditors The commissioners expect to be able to pay another dividend of ten per cent when the company's banking house and adjacent property in this city is sold and the remaining assets are disposed of

Mint Regulations

CHICAGO, August 23 The Inter Ocean's Washington special to day says the treasury department will issue a revision of the mint regulations The effect of the proposed changes will be to enable the superintendents of mints as soon as they have received notice from an assistant treasurer that a certificate of deposits for standard dollars has been received, to at once ship dollars Under the present arrangement the United States treasury must first receive the certificate and then instruct the superintendent of the mint to forward the dollars This caused great delay, amounting to over a week on an order for New Orleans Orders come in now at the rate of about $300 000 per week but the trouble is they do not stay out The report at the end of the experiment shows the amount on hand to be nearly the number coined

Railroads for the Black Hills

CHICAGO August 23—The Inter Ocean says both the Northwestern and Milwaukee and St Paul railroads have now received permission from the Indians to lay tracks through their reservation in the Black Hills and in the race for that section of the country will see some of the fastest track laying ever witnessed

The interior department has been loth to allow railroads to run through this Indian country for experience has shown that railroads tend to make Indians beggars where they have been thrifty and good citizens and demoralized them in every way

A Leaf from Jane Eyre

JOHN L. ROUTT, Chairman.
HENRY WARD, Secretary.

The Denver Review says: "Chairman Barnum is not showman Barnum. He has no show—neither has his party."

The Denver Inter-Ocean devotes a number of terse and significant paragraphs to Judge Belford in its issue of the 21st instant.

Colonel H. Bartow has purchased the interest in the Leadville Democrat formerly controlled by the Hon. W. A. H. Loveland, and will continue in charge of the paper as editor in chief. Our friend Colonel Bartow has shown great ability and independence since he has become editor of the Democrat and we extend to him a hearty greeting as the proprietor of one of the two leading democratic papers in the state.

The following is a stanza a Hancock campaign song, set to music for democratic glee clubs, north of Mason and Dixon's line:

"For he's in blue sleeves true,
They always love the van,
Their country is their glory,
And Hancock is our man."

The Boston Advertiser makes the following suggestion which seems to be a sensible and practicable solution of the problem which has attracted the attention of business men: "The need of some representative of small amounts of money to be transmitted through the mail, is admitted. But it is not necessary to think for a moment of a return to the fractional currency, which soon became a mass of rags and filth. It would be entirely practicable to provide the post offices with blank receipts in denominations of ten and twenty-five cents, to be sold at eleven cents for the former and twenty-seven cents for the latter, somewhat in the following form:

10 CENTS.

The post-office at ..... has received TEN CENTS, which is payable to the bearer at any post-office in the United States.

"The stamp of the office would be used in the blank space. On the reverse side the words "Paid by the post-office at" followed by the stamp, would cancel the receipt. Postmasters would be accountable for the blank receipts issued to them as for stamps; and cancelled receipts would be accepted as money in the settlement of accounts. The plan is simple and practicable. There would be no danger that the post office receipts would be extensively used as currency, but they would do for transmission through the mails. For the convenience of persons engaged in business requiring the frequent use of small sums, they might be stitched together, or attached to each other by mucilage. The profit to the government from such a system would certainly be large, and the public would gladly pay for the convenience."

We acknowledge the receipt of one of Nelly' new Topographical and Township maps of Colorado from Messrs. Stone & Co., of Denver. We have examined it thoroughly and cannot fail to pronounce it one of the best yet published. Those seeking information in reference to the various mining districts and points of interest in the state will find that this map is what they want. It can be procured of Messrs. W. G. M. Stone & Co., of Denver.

How Do You Pronounce Hough?

A'ray does it rhyme with bough?
(I'd really like to know,)
And if you'll tell me how,
Why, I'll pronounce it so.

Or does it rhyme with trough?
(I'd really like to know,)
Though it should make me cough,
Why I'd pronounce it so.

Perhaps it rhymes with laugh?
(I'd really like to know,)
Just tell me it is "Haff,"
And I'll pronounce it so.

Or does it rhyme with tough?
(I'd really like to know,)
Assure me, that's enough,
And I'll pronounce it so.

Well, Hough is rough enough,
(Cough, if you please, or laugh,)
His canvas will be tough,
His harvest will be chaugh.

The Embarrassment of Riches.

The people of New Mexico labor under one very serious disability. This thing of building a town, and, just about the time you get it finished and ready to fence in, discovering that the rock foundations of the houses have 4,000 ounces of silver to the ton, while the bricks of the walls assay, perhaps, fifty ounces of gold, is calculated to impart a decided instability to affairs. This will doubtless cause the inhabitants, with a view to contingencies, to prefer the simple adobe style of architecture. [Denver Inter-Ocean.

How to Win.

"I told you something, my friend," said a German stump speaker to a Lake county delegate yesterday very soberly; "I can told you how to win der next election." "How?" eagerly asked the delegate. "You nominates Mr. Pitkin for Governor. Aha! You tinks a Dutchman was a fool, but by shimmiany dot's sense. [Leadville Chronicle.

Rio Grande Extension.

The Denver Sunday Tribune has the following: "The Denver and Rio Grande railway announces the opening to-day of the first section of its San Juan division. On this date passenger trains will commence running from San Antonio to Boydville, twenty-five miles into the range, and giving a foretaste of mountain scenery and engineering, beside which everything heretofore developed will appear insignificant. In the section now opened occurs the Three-ply, where, in order to attain grade, the track extends into three parallel lines. Passenger trains are also now running to Tres Piedras, New Mexico, and the extension of this division will soon convey travelers within a few miles of Santa Fe."

Raising Rates for Wool.

We have just received the following circular from Coates Brothers, wool commission merchants of Philadelphia: "Markets of late have been quiet with prices generally firm, many holders confidently expecting a better trade soon. Medium grade of combing, fine delaine, and medium clothing fleece are in good demand at quotations. Other grades and descriptions are quiet and only selling as occasional buyers are forced into market to supply immediate wants. Manufacturers are not disposing of many goods and are unwilling to buy wool freely until they know what they are likely to realize for their product. The outlook at present does not seem favorable for much higher prices for wool in the near future although the general business of the country is in a prosperous condition and likely to continue so. The London auction sales of fine wools which opened yesterday show a slight decline.

"Colorado and New Mexican wools are quoted as follows:

Choice fine selected	28@32
Improved, selected	25 " 27
" average	23 " 25
Coarse, carpet and clean	21 " 22

Kerberville Notes.

KERBERVILLE, August 18th, 1880. Things here are booming. We have now two saw mills, one in operation day and night, and the other being set up, and lumber engaged for three weeks ahead at $25 per thousand.

Reports of tellurium and chlorides being found on the west fork are coming in daily, also rumors of fresh strikes in the Bonanza and Rawley mines.

Colorado Springs is well represented here and is not behind the others in striking it.

We have rain or hail most days and the grass is looking splendid.

Five towns are started here and all doing well.

Barlow, Sanderson & Co. have a stage line running from Villa Grove, but it is understood that as soon as a mail route is established they will run a through stage from Salida.

It is estimated that there are at least two thousand souls in this camp, and more are coming in daily. A town lot-jumping outfit have appeared here but there is very little chance of their carrying their operations very far as there are plenty of law-abiding citizens here who will stand no nonsense of that kind. We have no newspaper here at present, but I understand the material for one is on the way to be called the Sierra Journal. More in a few days. P. S.

Concerning the Chrysolite.

The Leadville Herald of last Sunday says: "There is no mining property about Leadville at present that is attracting the attention that is the Chrysolite. It paid dividends of such large amounts, aggregating eleven hundred thousand dollars in six months time, that when the dividends ceased some alarm was created. That alarm has been greatly increased of late from certain reports, although the mine is doing exceeding well. The output of ore is rivaling the best days of the Chrysolite and there seems a strong probability of its continuing. Just east of the Roberts shaft, between the first and second level, there is a fine body of ore, mostly sand carbonates, that exceeds anything heretofore found in the mine. This is from twenty to thirty feet in thickness and from it is coming nearly all of the present large production, and double the amount could here easily be mined. This reserve body will keep the company supplied with a fair production for a long time and in the meantime it is more than probable the mine will show other portions to supply its place in the output.

The most favorable showing at present is the drift being run north from a point a short distance east from the Roberts shaft. This drift is being run to prospect the ground, which has heretofore not been prospected and where the company owns a large amount of territory. The drift was started in a large body of iron which is worthless for present treatment, but a few days since struck a body of hard carbonates mixed with galena. Yesterday a face of four feet of mineral was exposed in the face of this drift, and it gives promise of opening out another ore section that will send the Chrysolite booming again. A short distance further to the east another drift is being run, which is still in iron, but looks well. It seems that here a new ore body is to be exposed. Mr. J. W. Marden, in the absence of the general manager, Mr. Keyes, has charge, and Mr. W. R. Breck is looking after the mine. A careful and prudent course is being pursued. The shipments for the past week have been as follows: Monday, 707 tons; Tuesday, 71 tons; Wednesday, 120 tons, Thursday, 73 tons; Friday, 82 tons, and yesterday about 100 tons. This would would make a total of 761 tons, valued at over $60,000 net. This does not look much like a mine that has weakened to any considerable extent.

Malibran and Her Father

A pleasing story which does credit to the sentiment of the French theatre goers, is told by M Legouve in a recently pub- lished volume on Malibran The violent temper of Malibran's father, Garcia, caus- ed a severe quarrel, which resulted in the separation of father and daughter. The breach had already lasted several years when, one evening, the opera "Othello" was produced at the Theatre Italien, with Garcia in the role of Othello, and Mali- bran in that of Desdemona The daughter, as usual, was admirable in the part, and the father, unwilling to be outdone, be- came once more the Garcia of his best years. The success was complete, and an enthusiastic recall necessitated the hasty raising of the curtain after it had fallen on the first act. Desdemona was discovered almost as black as Othello Moved by the ovation in which both had shared, Malibran had thrown herself into the arms of her father, and in the embraces which ensued Garcia had imprinted upon her features some of the dye which stained his own. M. Legouve was present on the oc casion, and he says no one in the theatre thought of laughing. the audience imme- diately understood the affecting nature of the incident, and, ignoring all that was grotesque in it, "they applauded with transport the father and daughter, recon- ciled by their art, their talents, and their triumph "—[Pall Mall Gazette

Strange Spanish Customs

No sooner does a Spanish prince or prin- cess of the blood royal condescend to be born than the august little stranger is call- ed upon to play a conspicuous part in court ceremonials of a very solemn and fatiguing character The programme of action to be observed on such occasions has just been published at Madrid, in an- ticipation of a "happy event" expected to take place in the Palacio Real before the end of this month, and will doubtless be carried out to its minutest detail— Accord- ing to ancient prescriptions, the lying in chamber of a Spanish queen may not have more than one door, which must commu nicate with a saloon to which the great officers of state, deputations from both chambers of the Cortes, admirals, marshals and grandees of Spain are required to as- semble when the body surgeon of her majesty shall announce that the birth is at hand This announcement is made to the President of the Council and the Minister of Justice, who are conducted by the King in person into the Queen s bedroom, where the accoucheur officially communicates to them the state of affairs. This they, in their turn, impart to the illustrious gathering in the aforesaid saloon. The assembled dig- nitaries then wait patiently until the royal infant "deigns to enter the world." As soon as this important event takes place, the King carries the new born babe into the saloon on a huge golden salver, and exhibits it to all present, commencing with the Minister-President. Twenty four hours later its birth is registered civilly, and the Cardinal Patriarch of India baptizes it in the palace chapel. Immediately after this ceremony the babe, if a boy, is dubbed knight, and invested with the insignia of the Golden Fleece.

See the excursion advertisement in this morning's issue. Those who have been waiting for a cheap opportunity to visit Leadville need wait no longer.

All of the engines controlled by the Brotherhood engineers on the Denver and Rio Grande are draped in mourning in memory of Patrick Nolan, the engineer who was killed in the recent accident near Littleton.

Mr. J. H. Clinkscales, the groceryman, has disposed of his store and fixtures to Mr. R. S. Shaw, formerly of St. Joseph, Mo. Possession will be given the 15th of September. In the meantime Mr. Clinkscales offers some extraordinary inducements to those wishing anything in the grocery line.

A policeman ought to be placed at the Iron Spring, Manitou, on Sundays to keep the crowd there in order. There is always a great number of carriages standing near the spring and some people who possess too much of the hog in their dispositions will refuse to make way for others who desire to drive by. A policeman would make the fellows "move on."

We are informed by Chief Engineer Pixley that the Harrison hook and ladder company of Leadville have challenged the Hooks No. 2 of Denver, to run a side by side race in Colorado Springs for the sum of $10,000. The race to be 500 feet and raise a ladder, and to be governed by the state rules. The Denver boys have not signified their acceptance of the challenge as yet. It is reported that the race between the Alpines of Georgetown and the Bates hose company of Denver will be run in this city in October.

On Sunday afternoon W. Perkins and Joe McGee hired of Messrs. Stevens & Rouse a horse and buggy with the intention of taking a drive. They first went to Colorado City where they indulged in liquor very freely and having secured a sufficient quantity they returned to this city. Upon their arrival here they created considerable disturbance by driving rapidly through the streets singing, discharging their revolvers and displaying not a little hilarity in various other ways. City Marshal Beall who had seen the disturbance followed them up and arrested them in the vicinity of the National Hotel. Yesterday morning they were arraigned before Justice Stewart for a hearing. Perkins was fined $8.80 for being drunk and McGee was found guilty of being drunk and carrying concealed weapons and fined $19 80.

The Leadville Herald of Sunday, August, 22d says: A change in the management of the Robert E. Lee mine has taken place, Mr. J. L. Loomis retiring from the position of general manager and being succeeded by Irving Howbert, one of the owners of the mine. A general change has also been made in the subordinate officers. Mr. Loomis has been connected with the mine since its ownership by the present owners, and under his direction the mine has produced something like a million and a half of dollars. He retires with good laurels. His resignation was accepted at the meeting of the stockholders on Friday night, and he is no longer connected with the mine. Mr. Howbert, although not a mining man, is one of the leading business men of our state. He is the president of the First National bank of Colorado Springs, and was for a term of six years the county clerk of El Paso county. Who will be in charge of mining under Mr. Howbert is not yet decided.

The Two Orphans.

A good audience gathered last evening in Court House Hall to witness the presentation of the Two Orphans by the Plunketts. The excellence of the acting was a surprise even to those who are acquainted with the ability of this company. Carrie Plunkett, as Widow Frochard, was most completely identified with that unpleasant character, and her acting was equal to the perfection of her make up. Miss Blanche Plunkett as Louise was pathetic, and personated the unhappy blind girl in a truly touching manner. We think that as Louise Miss Blanche had an opportunity last night to show her true line of acting, and her success was so marked and her reception by the audience so sympathetic that she cannot fail to be encouraged. Miss Genevra Canavan sustained her high reputation last evening in the character of Henriette, which was rendered in a thoroughly satisfactory manner.

Mr. Theadore appeared as Pierre Frochard, a character quite in another vein from those which he has represented during his stay in this city and his excellent rendition of this difficult character showed how versatile and capable an actor he is. Mr. Overton, as the Count De Liniers, was perfectly at home and acted with his usual success. We desire to commend Mr. F. B. Ferris for his manly and spirited presentation of the character of the Chevalier De Vaudrey. The play ran smoothly and the costumes were elegant and appropriate. Indeed, we do not hesitate to pronounce the presentation of the Two Orphans last evening a gratifying success. During the week Manager Plunkett will appear in Our Boys when he will no doubt be greeted with the crowded house he deserves.

Personal.

Mr. F. W. Potter, of La Veta, Colorado, is at the National.

Mr. George W. Roberts, of the Omaha Herald, was in the city yesterday.

Miss Lou Babcock, one of Denver's well known society belles, spent Sunday at the Beebee with some of her lady friends.

Mr. Tom. Connolly, of Dubuque, Iowa, one of the largest carriage and buggy manufacturers in the west, is at the Beebee.

Capt. J. M. Givens and wife came in from their ranch on Squirrel creek on Sunday and are the guests of the National.

Hon. Matt France is in Denver on business and will probably go from there to the state convention at Leadville on Thursday.

Messrs. Edgar Howbert and Ed. Clemer left on the afternoon express yesterday for Denver where they will recreate for a few days.

Mayor Bacon and wife and Mrs. Judge Knox and daughter returned yesterday from a ten days' camping tour in the mountains.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the Cliff were Mr. and Mrs. H. Bridges, of England, and Mr. J. French, of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mr. A. D. Craigue returned on the afternoon express yesterday from Chicago where he has been in attendance at the Knights Templar conclave.

It may please the many friends of Dr. Sutherland in this city to learn that he has received the nomination for the state senate in the Chaffee district.

Judge Ambler, of Ohio, and Mr. Henry Ambler, of Mount Pleasant, Iowa, one of the most prominent members of the Iowa bar, are spending some time in the city.

Among yesterday's arrivals at the National were Messrs. Samuel Thompson, of Leadville, W. H. Dunlap, of St. Louis, and F. W. Alexander, of Fairfield, Iowa.

Governor Gilpin came down from Edgerton on Sunday and spent the day in the city as the guest of Major McAllister. He in company with the major visited Manitou Sunday afternoon.

Mr. F. D. M. Holland, of Conejos, accompanied by Mrs. H. Dalton of the same place, and the Misses Blanche and Perche Crane, of Leavenworth, Kansas, have apartments at the National.

Allie Barker is at present taking a preliminary course at Annapolis preparatory to competing in the September examinations for admitance to the naval school. We hope he will succeed this time.

Major Macomber has returned from the Gunnison country. He is well satisfied with his season's work and is inclined to think that he will realize something handsome from some of his investments.

Mr. Irving Howbert returned from Leadville on Sunday morning's train. He remained in the city until yesterday morning when business then again demanded his attention and he returned on the morning express yesterday taking his wife with him.

The Manitou station on the Colorado Springs & Manitou road only consists of a box freight car. It is nevertheless presided over by a competent and popular agent in the person of Mr. George Winfield the former telegraph operator at the Beebee house. He seems to be hero of a story entitled, "The romance of an operator, or life in a box car."

Mr. J. M. Ellison, the ticket agent at the depot, is to have a larger office. The one he is now using is entirely too small, taking into consideration the amount of business he is compelled to transact in it daily. It will be enlarged to almost double its present capacity, provided with new ticket cases and generally rearranged.

GUNNISON NOT GONE.

Cats Can Live in Ruby and Men Can Become Healthy and Wealthy, to Say The Least.

From a Regular Correspondent of the Gazette.

RUBY CAMP, August 16.—In my last, I mentioned an editorial which appeared in the Leadville Chronicle under the heading of "Gunnison Gone." What effect this has had upon the reputation of Ruby Camp east of the range, we have not heard. Here, all goes on as before. During the past week we have had several Leadville men here, who came to see the camp as it really is. They left with very different impressions than could have been gained from the Chronicle, and will return this week for the purpose of investing in some of our "knife-blade" veins.

Another slanderous report, aimed at the prosperity of this camp, has lately gone the rounds of the papers, apparently with the intent of deterring people from coming here. It was the simple statement, "Cats cannot live in Ruby." How many, seeing this, have been deterred from trusting their own lives in a place where cats, with nine lives, cannot live, we do not know. As we may justly boast of the healthfulness of our camp, there being as yet but one death, and that from exhaustion and exposure, we do not like this to gain credit, from being uncontradicted. Cats can and do live and thrive here. I know of one cat that has been here almost a year, and is as lively as any of your city cats. It may not enjoy life so well, but this is not owing to anything in our climate, or to the lightness of the air, but because we have no back yards. In high altitudes milk and fresh meat are not always on hand. A cat cannot eat bacon and live. This is the only reason for the belief that cats cannot live in high altitudes.

Our six sawmills have at last met the demand for lumber, and the price has come down from $35 to $18 per thousand. Building, however, has gone steadily forward in Irwin, but as some anticipated a fall in the price, have deferred building until they could get lumber at a more reasonable price than it has heretofore been sold at. We may now look for greater activity in building in Irwin. Irwin has put on all the airs of a thriving mining town, and has all the devices by which to obtain the dollar of the miner. To-day the bills for the first theatrical performance were distributed through the town. Irwin is a lively place but with all its numerous places of drinking and vice, there are few quieter or more orderly places in the state. It is the determination of the authorities to keep it so. It can be done, if all mine owners will do as some have resolved to do—employ no man who sprees.

Ruby appears to have been settled upon as the name for the lower town, and Haverly for their post office, when they get one. This place has not the rapid growth of Irwin, but improvements go steadily forward. At the south end the Goodenough Milling and Mining Co. are erecting their extensive stamp mill and smelting works. A large force of stonemasons, carpenters and laborers are employed, and the machinery is being laid on the ground ready to be put in place as soon as the buildings are far enough advanced.

The main shaft on the Forest Queen mine has been substantially timbered into three compartments, shaft house erected and excavations being made for other buildings and for hoisting machinery. The shaft is down seventy feet and at the bottom is an ore vein of four feet in thickness which is sent to the Iowa Smelting Co's works at Crested Butte, without sorting, and mills 400 ounces silver to the ton. The ore vein has increased in size and thickness and richness from the top down.

Col. W. T. Holt, of your city, is now sole owner of the Ruby King mine. There is no question but this mine will prove equally as rich and valuable as the Forest Queen upon the same development, as it joins the Queen and is upon the same vein, or that the colonel will soon take high rank as a mining king. This mine is opened at present by a single shaft. At the bottom of this the ore vein is almost four feet in thickness with similar ore to that in the Queen. The colonel will put an engine over the shaft as soon as it can be done.

The Bullion King mine is producing a large amount of rich ore from the shaft sunk last winter.

Everywhere the mines are found to improve with depth. This is all that is required to make hundreds, which at present are but prospects, rich and productive mines, and probably, many of them equal to any now opened.

The Little Chief is being opened several hundred feet east of the discovery shaft with most promising appearances. The machinery for the Lead Chief has not yet arrived.

On a west extension of the Lead Chief a shaft is being sunk which is now down fifty feet. The ore increases and improves with depth. A ton and a half of the ore has been sent off for mill test. A good return is looked for as the ore is ruby and native silver.

A large excavation has been made on the Howard extension for shaft and ore house, and a wagon road is being made to the mine. This mine has been opened to but a slight depth, but enough has been seen to place it among the first mines of the district. The ore vein is from four to five feet wide, and the ore ruby and native silver. The vein of this mine contains more ore than any yet opened in this district.

The tunnel run to cut the Old Shirk is expected to reach the vein this week. This is on the same vein and east of the Howard extension.

Near these are the Oaks, Mexico and Durango, owned by different parties, all of which have lately been opened into large veins of rich ore.

The Independent is said to be turning out a large amount of ore and a number of good strikes have lately been reported in that part of the camp. I have not been up there.

Every day we have good reports of claims in all parts of the district, and all are working with the utmost confidence of striking ore below, whether they have any now or not. The experience of others warrants this belief. It is not known that there is a barren vein in camp. E. C.

A Day Behind the Hounds.

Some of our sportsmen thinking that the level prairies lying to the east of Colorado Springs afforded unsurpassable opportunities for coursing hares resolved on giving the sport a fair test. A party of them consisting of Messrs. Percy Williams, L. C. Davis, J. K. Shireman and Bob Krague, started out early yesterday morning with their three hounds Bret, Kent and Houner, and seated upon four of the fleetest horses that could be procured in the city they first scoured the plains adjoining Mr. Austin's ranch just east of the city, but could not find in this locality anything upon which to test the speed of their hounds, so they continued their researches among the buttes about two miles further east. They were finally rewarded by starting a hare from his biding place and the hounds preceiving the game started without a moment's hesitation on the chase, Bret taking the lead, with the other two close followers. It was at once seen that the hare did not propose to relinquish his existence without a contest, and the chase proved to be a very exciting one, and nearly five miles of prairie were traversed before the game was bagged, Bret being entitled to first blood. This was only one of the chases in which the hounds and horses participated during the morning. Bret showed himself a "stayer" and the speed and endurance which he displayed was very remarkable. Houner after his first course hung in the rear until an opportunity offered, when he made some good showings, cutting across the circles while the other two followed curve and turn. All the gentlemen that participated in the day's sport pronounce it the most exciting they ever engaged in.

Mr. Bassick's Accident.

The Silver Cliff Prospect of a recent date says: "A few days since, while Mr. E. C. Bassick was driving through the streets of Belfast, Maine, accompanied by his little son, his horses became frightened and ran away, breaking the carriage badly, and throwing Mr. Bassick and son violently to the ground, knocking Mr. B. senseless and injuring his back seriously, and breaking his little boy's arm. His $1,000 diamond pin was lost in the accident, but afterwards found and restored to him. Mrs. Bassick is lying very low from premature childbirth, and it is feared that her husband's critical condition will prove fatal to her.

To cap the climax, Mr. S. R. Chase, his son-in-law, who a week ago was stricken with paralysis, has since the accident died, leaving a little baby just one month old. Verily misfortunes never come single handed, and visit the rich as well as the poor."

In Justice Bentley's court yesterday Mr. Erickson was the complainant in a case of assault and battery preferred against Chas. D. Cannet. The assault took place on Sunday afternoon. From the evidence developed in the case it seems that Erickson at the request of his wife who was considered to be dangerously sick went to see her at a boarding house on Cascade avenue. Cannet, who was at the house in a drunken condition, attacked him upon his making his appearance there, which was the ground for the charge of assault and battery. The Judge found the defendant guilty and fined him $10 and the costs in the case making in all $16.80.

The masons have completed laying the walls on the Bennett Bros.' new store opposite the post office.
